DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. It is noted that the applicants filed an IDS listing two pending unpublished US Applications. The applicants state that these applications are literal translation of the previously cited prior art. It is noted that the applications are listed as US Patent Documents.
2. The information contained in these applications has been considered. However, recitation of these application was removed from the PTO-1449, because unpublished US Applications are not proper documents to be printed on the face of the patent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 27-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The claims recite changing the state of the cleaning liquid between two-phase emulsion and one-phase solution by agitation. This is enabled. The agitation alone could not change an emulsion to the true solution.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 15-17 and 20-23, 27, 29, 31, 32 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kuemin et al (US Patent 5,876,510 and WO 96/28535).

Kuemin et al teach a method for cleaning objects with emulsions comprising the same chemicals as claimed and disclosed by the specification in the same concentration as claimed. The document teaches the use of ultrasonic agitation during the cleaning. The emulsions are then cleaned from contamination and are recycled by azeotropic distillation. See entire documents, especially column 2, line 42 – column 3, line 27, column 5, line 33 column 6, line 2, column 7, line 18 – column 11, line 31.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 1746

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

9. Claims 19 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kuemin et al in view of EPA 0587917.

Kuemin et al do not specifically teach filtering of the cleaning liquid. They however, teach separation and purification of the contamination. See at least column 10, lines 25-33.

Filtering is a conventional method for separating contamination from the liquid. It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan at the time the invention was made to include filtering in the separation process disclosed by Kuemin et al with reasonable expectation of adequate results in order to separate contamination. This would have been especially obvious to an ordinary artisan in view of the teaching of EPA 0587917, which teaches that it was conventional to use filtering to separate contaminants from the cleaning liquids similar to the liquids disclosed by Kuemin et al, which were used in cleaning processes similar to the one disclosed by Kuemin et al.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 18 and 24-26 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

11. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art taken alone or in combination fails to teach or fairly suggest providing in Kuemin et al the steps of lowering temperature from the cleaning temperature to obtain a one-phase cleaning liquid from the emulsion in combination with removing contaminants from this one-phase solution.

Response to Arguments

12. Applicant's arguments with respect to previously pending have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

13. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
